

worth noting

Home News Tribune 08/2/07

TOYS DONATED: Second Chance Toys, a community-based program started by Sasha Lipton, a high school student at Governor Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights, recently distributed toys for children at The Arc of Middlesex in North Brunswick.

The reclaimed and refurbished toys were received by Linda Jacob, director of Family Support and Emily Meyers, family support resource coordinator at The Arc of Middlesex County.

Lipton started collecting the toys, cleans them, gift wraps them and presents them to children at local agencies and organizations. More than 300 toys have been donated in New Jersey.

For more information about Second Chance Toys and how you can get involved, go to www.SecondChanceToys.org.